WAR CRIMES: JOIN US TO URGE JUSTICE

21st century, war crimes still continues... In a report, WAR CRIMES IN SRI LANKA, the International Crisis Group said, "The scale of civilian deaths and suffering demands a response. Peace in Sri Lanka requires some measure of justice. An UN-sponsored international inquiry should be the first step in producing a comprehensive and credible record of the final months of Sri Lanka's war."

The Elders in a statement in May said, "The Elders believe an independent, international inquiry, with the ability to gather evidence within the country, is the best option. We hope this will be the recommendation of the expert panel due to be set up to advise the UN secretary-general, Ban Ki-moon."
